PBS: AN OVERVIEW

Public Broadcasting Service

- A private, nonprofit corporation whose members are the nation's public TV stations.
- Founded in 1969.
- Provides quality TV programming and related services to 345 noncommercial stations serving every state, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam and American Samoa.
- 175 noncommercial, educational licensees operate these 345 stations.
- Of the 175 licensees, 91 are community organizations, 54 are colleges or universities, 21 are state authorities and 9 are local educational or municipal authorities.
- 369 staff members in Alexandria, Virginia, New York City and Los Angeles direct program acquisition and scheduling, educational services, video marketing, advertising and promotion, audience research, broadcast and technical operations, fundraising development, engineering and technology development, and revenue-producing activities.
- Paved the way and continues to be the leader in quality children's, cultural, educational, nature, news, public affairs, science and skills programming.
- Created American broadcast television's first satellite program distribution system (1978).

How Is PBS Governed?

- PBS has a 35-member board of directors consisting of 15 lay representatives from stations' governing boards, 13 professional representatives from station management, 6 general directors and 1 management director (the PBS president).
- Officers of the board of directors are Gerald L. Baliles (partner, Hunton & Williams, Richmond, Virginia, representing WCVE Richmond), chairman; and Maria Elena A. Flood (former program director, Texas Tech Health Sciences Center School of Medicine, representing KCOS El Paso) and Ron Hull (station manager, KUON Lincoln, Nebraska), vice chairs.
- Ervin S. Duggan is the president and chief executive officer of PBS. Prior to joining PBS in February 1994, he was a commissioner of the Federal Communications Commission.

PBS SERVICES

PBS Programming

- PBS distributes quality children's, cultural, educational, news, public affairs, science, nature, fundraising and skills programs.
- PBS consistently delivers programs not seen elsewhere, including renowned children's series, in-depth news coverage and incisive public affairs programs. PBS also provides family-oriented programming—from music and drama to science and nature—that is entertaining, informative and nonviolent.
- PBS's noncommercial programs are chosen for their value to the viewer, rather than to an advertiser. And unlike cable TV, PBS is available at no cost in virtually every television household in the nation.
- The "life" of a PBS program often goes far beyond the TV screen. Many programs include special study materials and are adapted for use in classrooms, daycare centers and community education efforts.
- PBS's diverse menu of programs and services is designed to reach people of all ages, cultures, ideologies, income levels and interests. These programs, ranging from dramas and concerts to historical specials and public affairs documentaries, entertain, enlighten and inspire.
- PBS does not produce programs; rather, it obtains them from a varied mix of sources, including public TV stations, independent producers and foreign producers and distributors.

Lifelong Learning With PBS

- PBS and its member stations are educational institutions that serve Americans at home, in the classroom and in the workplace.
- Public TV's satellite and computer-based services expand the classroom, linking students and teachers across the country and making specialized coursework available to students who wouldn't otherwise have access.
- Public TV helps children start school ready to learn and is the nation's number one source of classroom programming, reaching 30 million K-12 students and 1.8 million teachers in 70,000 schools. PBS is the most popular television resource for classroom programming in the country, according to a national survey of teachers and school library media specialists. Public TV is the world's leader in college telecourses; more than 3 million adults have earned college credit through telecourses distributed by the PBS Adult Learning Service.
- An investment of less than one federal tax dollar per person per year supports not only general-audience programs, but also instructional programming and services for teachers and students in kindergarten through college.

PBS SERVICES

PTV, The Ready to Learn Service on PBS

- PTV, The Ready to Learn Service on PBS, is public television's response to the nation's Education 2000 goal that all children will start school ready to learn.
- PTV is a comprehensive array of resources, including award-winning educational series for children ages 2-12, between-program educational messages, and print materials that provide information about programming, parenting/caregiving and hands-on activities—all provided to support parents and families in using television effectively to help children get ready to learn.
- PTV was launched in July 1994, with Phase Two beginning in January 1995. The service currently is offered by 44 public television stations and reaches 53% of U.S. TV households. The national rollout is slated for September 1996.
- The between-program messages promote self-esteem, curiosity, conflict resolution, and other skills and attitudes children need to succeed in school and life.
- PTV stations develop partnerships with local education and social service agencies—such as childcare centers, schools, libraries, businesses, civic groups and government agencies—and provide workshops and training materials to help caregivers and parents extend the educational impact and value of PBS programs.

K-12 Learning Services

- K-12 Learning Services acquires and distributes high-quality programs and related print materials for formal and informal instruction in K-12 classrooms.
- K-12 Learning Services provides professional development programs for teachers and other educators.
- K-12 Learning Services increases the reach and utility of appropriate PBS prime-time programming to the K-12 education community.
- K-12 Learning Services is a national advocate for the use of television and other technologies for learning in the nation's schools.

PBS MATHLINE

- PBS MATHLINE is the first discipline-based education service that uses the power of telecommunications to provide quality resources to those pursuing excellence in mathematics.
- PBS MATHLINE reflects the vision presented in the standards developed by the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.
- PBS MATHLINE's services include the Middle School Math Project (MSMP) and the Elementary School Math Project (ESMP). Both are professional development services for teachers of mathematics. Participants have access to video modules of classroom teachers modeling techniques for standards-based instruction. MSMP/ESMP membership includes an online learning community of 20 to 30 teachers and a national bulletin board of participants.
- PBS MATHLINE is being offered during 1995-1996 in 34 states and Washington, D.C., via 68 stations. Approximately 2,000 teachers, who instruct more than 150,000 students, are involved.

PBS SERVICES

The Adult Learning Service (ALS)

- The first nationwide effort (1981) to coordinate and focus adult learning through television, ALS is now the largest telecommunications-based service for adult students.
- Local partnerships, involving more than 2,000 colleges and 96% of all public TV stations, are providing adult Americans greater access to a college education.
- These partnerships offer hundreds of hours of quality college-credit TV courses to more than 370,000 tuition-paying students each academic year. More than 3 million students have participated in ALS since its premiere.
- Courses are acquired from PBS member stations, college-based producers, independent producers and consortia of educational program producers.
- The ALS catalog includes more than 70 courses in the arts and humanities, history and the social sciences, science and health, business and technology, and professional development and teacher education.

The Adult Learning Satellite Service (ALSS)

- ALSS is an initiative of the Adult Learning Service and local public television stations to deliver, via satellite, quality educational programming directly to colleges.
- Through ALSS, more than 2,000 colleges have accessed complete television courses, short noncredit or certificate courses, resource programming for classroom and library use, and videoconferences, lectures and seminars for faculty, administrators, students and off-campus groups.
- The Business Channel, a specialized programming strand of ALSS, provides colleges and businesses with up-to-date programs on topics such as marketing, management and software training, business-related resource programs, and videoconferences featuring top business experts.

Going the Distance

- Going the Distance is an initiative of the PBS Adult Learning Service and public television stations to help adults earn college degrees through distance learning. Going the Distance now involves more than 100 colleges and 39 stations in 27 states.
- Designed to help colleges develop distance-degree programs using telecourses and other media-based instruction, Going the Distance is targeted at underserved and underrepresented adult learners, including older, working and minority populations, as well as urban and rural residents.

Ready to Earn (RTE)

- RTE provides working Americans with a broad range of adult-education services. This initiative is targeted to help the nation meet workforce readiness, adult literacy and lifelong-learning goals of the Goals 2000: Educate America Act.
- RTE is a project of the PBS Adult Learning Service in consultation with schools, colleges, educators, students, workers, labor unions, business leaders, government agencies, civic organizations and others. The service complements initiatives by federal, state and local governments in such areas as school-to-work transition, workforce training, retraining and literacy.

PBS SERVICES

PBS Learning Media

- PBS VIDEO is the largest distributor of videocassettes and laserdiscs of public television programs to schools, colleges, libraries, hospitals, government agencies and associations. It builds upon PBS member stations' investment in programming by making those programs a permanent part of educational video collections, video reference libraries and video databases, thus expanding and enhancing the educational resources available to schools, colleges and libraries.

  Besides offering such PBS programs as FRONTLINE, THE AMERICAN EXPERIENCE, THE CIVIL WAR, BASEBALL, THE WEST, EYES ON THE PRIZE, THE GREAT DEPRESSION, FUTURES, and THE NEWSHOUR WITH JIM LEHRER, PBS VIDEO develops enhanced educational products based on PBS programs, including multimedia school kits, PBS VIDEO*software*™, Educator's Enhanced PBS VIDEO*discs*™, PBS VIDEO*indexes*™ and PBS VIDEO*reference libraries*™.

- PBS Home Video distributes public television programs on videocassette, laserdisc and audiocassette in the home market under the PBS Home Video label. Through a venture with Turner Home Entertainment, programs are made available via retail outlets, catalogs, direct mail marketing and Turner cable channels. In addition, public television stations use PBS Home Video programs as a membership acquisition and retention opportunity.

- PBS Direct sells videocassettes in the home market through its PBS Home Video Catalog. This 64-page, four-color publication is mailed 11 times during the year and features more than 200 of the most sought-after special-interest miniseries and individual programs, including BASEBALL, THE CIVIL WAR, Ken Burns' "America" collection, THE WEST, CONNECTIONS 2, FRENCH IN ACTION, ABSOLUTELY FABULOUS, "The Internet Show," COVERT BAILEY'S FIT OR FAT and Deepak Chopra's "Body, Mind and Soul." Future plans include a PBS Home Video Club and other types of catalogs.

PBS ENTERPRISES

- PBS ENTERPRISES, Inc., incorporated in May 1985 as a wholly owned, for-profit subsidiary of PBS, develops goods and services involving new technology to generate income for PBS and public television stations.

- PBS NATIONAL DATACAST, Inc., a for-profit subsidiary of PBS ENTERPRISES incorporated in 1988, markets data broadcasting services utilizing the vertical blanking interval of public television's broadcast signal and technology developed by PBS ENTERPRISES. PBS NATIONAL DATACAST's nationwide data network provides businesses, government agencies and education organizations instantaneous point-to-multipoint information distribution to computers, printers, televisions, point-of-sale terminals and fax machines. Applications include news and financial information, TV program schedules, travel and real estate information, electronic publishing, retail advertising, database and computer software updates, broadcast faxing, home shopping and interactive television.

PBS SERVICES

Toward the 21st Century

PBS and its member stations are the leaders in developing new and improved applications of television and telecommunications technologies for public benefit.

Past accomplishments include: American broadcast television's first satellite program distribution system; development of the system to close-caption programs for deaf and hard-of-hearing viewers; creation of the Descriptive Video Service (DVS) for blind and visually impaired audiences; utilization of an unused portion of the TV signal for message delivery, data transmission and other ancillary uses; development of a high-quality stereo-audio satellite distribution system; and improvements in UHF reception and transmitter efficiency.

Educators, programmers and engineers from PBS and public television stations are developing:

- PBS ONLINE, the World Wide Web site of PBS (http://www.pbs.org). PBS ONLINE delivers a wide variety of learning materials and resources linked to local and national public television programming. It serves teachers, parents, child-care providers, students, adult learners and public television viewers. PBS ONLINE also includes pointers to the many local public television stations with World Wide Web home pages.
- PBS HORIZONS, a planned informational and cultural cable service spotlighting the country's greatest thinkers, scientists, authors, artists and teachers during appearances at major universities, libraries, museums and other institutions.
- interactive viewer services, using technologies from the Eon Corporation, that will be incorporated into public TV's broadcast programming, fundraising and marketing activities.
- strategies for improving television transmission technology, such as digital advanced television and high-definition television, and helping member stations automate their technical operations.
- "electronic field trips" that will take teachers and students to distant locations and will link them to experts in the field through interactive online technology.
- an array of interactive teacher-development services led by PBS MATHLINE, a comprehensive service developed in association with the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

PUBLIC TELEVISION FUNDING

How Is the Public Television System Funded?

- Public TV is a voluntary partnership among individuals, businesses, foundations, colleges, and local, state and federal governments to use television as a positive force in society. It is one of the nation's largest membership organizations, with 4.9 million members providing public TV's single largest source of support ($297.96 million).
- Public television's national, regional and local income in FY94 was $1.38 billion, according to the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. More than four-fifths (81.5%) of the funding came from nonfederal sources.
- The largest federal source in FY94 was the appropriation to the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, which accounted for $206.25 million (14.9%) of public television's income. Among nonfederal sources, state and local governments combined for $294.87 million (21.3%).

PUBLIC TELEVISION FUNDING

How Is the Public Broadcasting Service Funded?

The PBS budget for FY96 (July 1, 1995-June 30, 1996) of $166.98 million is paid primarily by member stations: 71.3% of the budget is provided by the stations; 15.2% is from educational institutions, interest income and other sources; and 13.5% comes from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

Four-fifths (80.6%) of PBS's FY96 budget goes to program production, acquisition, promotion and distribution:

- $114.719 million (68.7%)—Program production, acquisition and promotion, including the National Program Service and Station Independence Program.
- $19.928 million (11.9%)—Program distribution and administration, including operation of the satellite interconnection system and promotional support.

The programming funds administered by PBS represent only a portion of the total cost of PBS's National Program Service.

PUBLIC TELEVISION FUNDING

How Is the PBS National Program Service Funded?

PBS operates public television's National Program Service (NPS), which provides quality children's, cultural, educational, news, public affairs, science, nature, fundraising and skills programs.

These programs are drawn from many sources, including public television stations, independent producers, and other producers and distributors throughout the world.

Support totaling $310.5 million was provided for NPS programs and series that began their initial broadcast in FY95.

In FY95, 1,597 hours of original-broadcast programs were distributed: 50.3% were public affairs programs, 19.6% were cultural programs, 18.2% were children's programs, 7.3% were how-to programs, 4.6% were science and nature programs, 0.1% were educational programs (primarily college telecourses) and 0.1% were sports programs.

Of these 1,597 hours, 32.9% were produced by the combined efforts of public television stations and independent producers, 29.9% by independent producers, 27.9% by public television stations, 7.0% by foreign producers and 2.3% by other combinations of public television stations, independent producers and foreign producers.

THE PUBLIC TELEVISION AUDIENCE

- The public TV audience reflects the social and economic makeup of the nation.
- From October 1994 to September 1995, 95.2 million viewers in 56.0 million households watched public TV each week, according to the Nielsen Television Index (NTI). This represents 58.7% of America's 95.4 million households with TVs.
- During prime time in this period, public TV was watched each week in 30.5 million households by 48.6 million people.
- The average viewing household during this period watched almost three hours of public TV in the course of a week; of this amount, an hour and a half was spent with prime-time programming.
- From October 1994 to September 1995, public TV's average prime-time rating was 2.2, compared with 1.3 for TNT, 1.0 for Nick at Nite, 0.9 for Lifetime and 0.7 for A&E and the Discovery Channel.
- 81.7% of all American television-owning families—78.4 million households with 158.9 million viewers—watched public television in October 1995, with the average home tuning in almost eight hours during the month.
- 99% of all U.S. homes with a TV can receive a public TV station. The most widely available cable networks can be seen by only 70%. Public TV is available for free; cable costs about $400 per year.

Below is a breakdown, by TV household characteristics, of the public TV audience for an average week during April-May 1995. National persons demographic figures are also provided by sex/age. (Source: Nielsen Television Index)

Programming Highlights from the 1995-1996 PBS Schedule [1/]

Series:

History

The American Experience

This prize-winning series combines popular culture, politics and history in a series of nonfiction films about America's rich and vibrant past. THE AMERICAN EXPERIENCE has won Emmy and Peabody Awards and numerous prizes at various film festivals throughout the country.

Chicano! History of the Mexican-American Civil Rights Movement

CHICANO! tells the story of the struggle of the Mexican-American community for social and legal equality and cultural identity, and its efforts to achieve full participation in the American political process. The programs focus on individuals, issues and pivotal events that made up the popular movement known as el movimiento or la causa in the period 1965. An often-ignored aspect of the civil rights struggle in the 1960s, it was nonetheless a landmark period for the second-largest ethnic minority in the United States. During this period many Mexican Americans took a name that had been used disparagingly against them for years -- Chicano -- and fashioned it into a term of pride, affirmation and struggle.

The Great War and the Shaping of the 20th Century

This series chronicles the turmoil of World War I -- the Great War of 1914-1918. Making use of historical work by a new generation of scholars, THE GREAT WAR presents a military, social and cultural history of the war.

The West

THE WEST brings the saga of the American West -- full of tragedy and triumph, hope and harsh reality -- to life, tracing the lives of a diverse cast of characters, from explorers, soldiers and Indian warriors to settlers, railroad builders and gaudy showmen, who share their stories in their own words, through diaries, letters and autobiographical accounts. It introduces viewers to rich and colorful figures: a Chinese ditch digger and a successful Mexican-American landowner; a '49er from Chile and a Texas cowboy born in Britain; a woman missionary to the Indians who loathed the West, and a Wellesley graduate who loved it in spite of everything that happened to her and her family. Some of the film's central characters are celebrated personalities; others will be new to most audiences. None, however, fits any of the stereotypes presented in the West's polarized myths. Instead, these people illuminate the times in which they lived, while also revealing the essential character of Western experience.

West Virginia

West Virginia is a place of terrible beauty with an unforgettable story -- the catastrophic encounter between colonists and Native Americans, the unprecedented break from Virginia during the Civil War, the scramble for land and natural resources to fuel the nation's Industrial Revolution, the sensational Hatfield and McCoy feud, the explosive labor struggles of the 20th century and the social crises leading to the 1960's "War on Poverty." A remarkable variety of characters are involved in this story, from frontier commander George Washington, abolitionist John Brown, writer Rebecca Harding to Civil War leader Stonewall Jackson, among many others.

News/Informational

Adam Smith

The Emmy Award-winning weekly series, ADAM SMITH, is devoted to making sense of current complex issues. It is the only series of its kind to devote the bulk of each episode to an in-depth look at a single topic. Each week, the series makes economic trends and developments clear, intelligible and even entertaining, providing context and analysis through award-winning graphics, on-location reports and the insights of high-caliber guests. As the Wall Street Journal put it, this is "a TV financial program that's right on the money."

Charlie Rose

Acclaimed interviewer and broadcast journalist Charlie Rose engages American's best thinkers, writers, politicians, athletes, entertainers, business leaders and scientists in one-on-one interviews and round table discussions. Rose is an award-winning former anchor of CBS News "Nightwatch."

Citizens '96

CITIZENS '96 is designed to explore a citizens' agenda for the 1996 presidential campaign. Reports from public television stations partnering with newspapers and radio stations across the country are combined with townhall discussions, an on-line component and discussion groups to help determine the concerns of citizens at the grassroots level. This program is a key component of The Democracy Project, a PBS initiative to stimulate citizen engagement in civic life.

Firing Line Special Debates

Taking part in PBS's Democracy Project, FIRING LINE SPECIAL DEBATES provides a televised arena for public discussions on a variety of issues. The following debate took place just before the presidential election: Resolved: Bob Dole and the Republican Party Are Better Able to Run the Country for the Next Four Years Than Bill Clinton and the Democratic Party.

Frontline

This series features timely, hard-hitting documentaries that focus on national and international events and issues; topics include the 1996 presidential election, the future of cyberspace, the Gulf War, and biographies of political personalities such as Ross Perot and Newt Gingrich.

The MacNeil/Lehrer Newshour

As America's only full-hour national news broadcast, and with more than 3,000 programs and 15,000 guests under its belt, THE MACNEIL/LEHRER NEWSHOUR remains public television's decided alternative to its commercial counterparts. The program's in-depth approach has been recognized by five George Foster Peabody Broadcast Awards, six National News Emmys and a host of other prestigious honors. Hosted by Robert MacNeil in New York and Jim Lehrer in Washington, DC, the series format includes a news summary, live studio interviews and discussions, documentary reports and analyses. Upon Robert MacNeil's retirement in October 1995, the program became THE NEWSHOUR WITH JIM LEHRER.

The National Issues Convention

THE NATIONAL ISSUES CONVENTION is an unprecedented experiment in American democracy. Six hundred citizens, a statically accurate representation of America, gather at the University of Texas in Austin to discuss key issues facing the nation with the Republican and Democratic candidates for president. A detailed poll measures the delegates' views before and after the deliberative process and their discussions with the candidates.

The People and the Power Game

Part of PBS's Democracy Project, THE PEOPLE AND THE POWER GAME is a gritty, candid look inside the closed doors of Washington's power game. This television documentary captures the intimacy and insight into America's leaders and the raw power confrontations that are at the heart of modern democracy.

Each program, The Unelected: The Media and the Lobbies and The Elected: The Presidency and the Congress, consists of a documentary and a voter forum. The forums bring together representatives of the people as well as practitioners and experts of the power game to discuss how to make the system work better.

Talking with David Frost

Sir David Frost continues to interview prominent newsmakers and celebrities from around the world. Past guests have included F. Lee Bailey, Garth Brooks, Barbara Bush, Senator Robert Dole, House Speaker Newt Gingrich and Luciano Pavarotti.

Wall $treet Week with Louis Rukeyser

As America's most popular program about the economy and people and their money, WALL $TREET WEEK WITH LOUIS RUKEYSER tackles what's ahead for the financial markets each year. Each week, one of America's most respected economic commentators holds court with some of the most influential experts on the international money scene. The weekly panel of top leaders in business, finance, government and on Wall Street joins Rukeyser to discuss issues facing America and the world.

Washington Week in Review

WASHINGTON WEEK IN REVIEW, PBS's longest-running public affairs program, features Washington's top journalists participating in in-depth analysis of major news events.

Performing Arts/Drama

American Playhouse

AMERICAN PLAYHOUSE, television's longest-running anthology drama series, premieres acclaimed feature films and original TV events that help expand the vision of the medium, including "Drawn from Memory," the autobiography of Czech animator Paul Fierlinger.

Great Performances

GREAT PERFORMANCES, the longest-running performing arts anthology on television, presents an exciting mix of cultural programming excellence and celebrity star power, including the season-opening concerts at Carnegie Hall as well as performances highlighting Broadway musicals and famed violinist Itzhak Perlman.

Live from Lincoln Center

LIVE FROM LINCOLN CENTER presents musical programs from the stage of Lincoln Center's Avery Fisher Hall; features include the New York Philharmonic Opening Night and the New York City Opera's The Merry Widow, in addition to performances by Yo-Yo Ma and Luciano Pavarotti.

Masterpiece Theatre

MASTERPIECE THEATRE's Fall 1995 season celebrates 25 years on PBS with the adaptation of Edith Wharton's final, unfinished novel, The Buccaneers; the story of an escape artist; and the serialization of a novel by Joanna Trollope. In 1996, MASTERPIECE THEATRE continues its commitment to theatrical excellence by featuring Andrew Davies' production of Moll Flanders and To Play The King, the four-part sequel to the Emmy award-winning House of Cards.

The Metropolitan Opera Presents

THE METROPOLITAN OPERA PRESENTS offers Richard Strauss's final collaboration with Hugo von Hofmannsthal, Arabella, Giacomo Puccini's favorite among his own operas, Madama Butterfly, and Giuseppe Verdi's Otello with James Levine as conductor and Placido Domingo as Otello.

Mystery!

MYSTERY! opens the season with an adaptation of Gallowglass, by Ruth Rendell writing as Barbara Vine (writer of A Dark-Adapted Eye), and more crime-solving from Hercule Poirot and Sherlock Holmes. The program also features Commander Adam Dagliesh and Inspector Morse in P.D. James's A Mind to Murder and introduces private investigators Elly Chandler and her sister-in-law Dee Tate in a new mini-series, Chandler & Co.

Science/Nature

21st Century Jet: The Building of the 777

21ST CENTURY JET presents a frank, behind-the-scenes look at the process of developing a new jetliner, Boeing's 777 -- one of the largest and most complex airplanes ever built. Among the first planes to be designed primarily with computers, the 777 contains the largest engines of any Boeing aircraft and is constructed of new lightweight materials. More than 10,000 people were involved in the creation of the new plane, which is assembled with parts from companies all over the worlds.

Alien Empire

This three-part miniseries from NATURE employs groundbreaking video techniques to illustrate the bizarre universe of the 30 million species of insects with which humans uneasily share the planet -- and without which the human race could not survive. Combining cutting-edge computer animation with live-action footage and powerful magnifying cameras, Alien Empire offers a startling "insects' eye-view" of the complexities of insect existence.

Breakthrough: The Changing Face of Science in America

This new documentary series profiles 20 contemporary African-American, Latino and Native-American scientists and engineers who are making advances in biology, astronomy, physics, mathematics and many other scientific disciplines. In six programs, their stories take viewers from San Juan to Siberia, from a frozen sea inside the Arctic Circle to a mountaintop in the Chilean Andes.

Eyewitness II

EYEWITNESS II presents a dazzling wildlife tour -- the ultimate guide through the mysteries of natural history. Combining fact, history, anecdote, myth and legend, this series explores an astonishing array of creatures. Fast-paced and full of stunning graphics, it brings the natural world to life, drawing upon the resources of two leaders in communications: the BBC's Worldwide Americas, the world's most renowned producer of nature programs; and Dorling Kindersley, the groundbreaking publisher of the internationally best-selling Eyewitness books.

Hidden Worlds

This series of half-hour programs journeys to ten of the world's secret places to reveal some of nature's hidden treasures. From Australia's Kakadu Park -- home to colored lizards, wallabies and crocodiles; to Arizona's Painted Desert, where life abounds on and under the shifting sands; to Indonesia's prehistory Lesser Sundas Islands -- home of the legendary giant Komodo dragon lizards, each program is filled with beautiful images of some of the world's least known and rarely seen creatures in their natural habitats.

In the Wild

A continuation of productions first seen on NATURE, this series of one-hour natural history specials features celebrities fulfilling life-long dreams of encountering wild animals in their natural habitats and promoting their survival.

Nature

NATURE continues its unparalleled programming, including features on jaguars, monkeys, penguins, octopus and squid, talking parrots, monsoons, a visit to the exotic island of Sulawesi, and a search for Moby Dick.

The New Explorers

THE NEW EXPLORERS spotlights scientists who are making exciting, life-changing discoveries in and out of the laboratory and includes features on the Galapagos; the Manatees; ancient native Americans, the Anasazi; and issues surrounding the Nuclear Age.

NOVA

NOVA returns to public television featuring an array of programs about the mysterious demise of Tsar Nicholas II, his family and servants; the remarkable creation of plants and animals on the volcanic Hawaiian islands; a frightening tale of serial arson; a profile of renowned physicist Albert Einstein, and much more.

Odyssey of Life -- A NOVA Special

Lennart Nilsson's unparalleled cinematography inside the body won a worldwide audience for NOVA's Miracle of Life. Now, taking advantage of astonishing new advances in Nilsson's techniques, NOVA presents a stunning three-part series on his life, his work and the unfolding of life on earth.

People in Motion II

PEOPLE IN MOTION II was created as a result of the enormous response received from viewers across the nation following the premiere of the original, award-winning PEOPLE IN MOTION miniseries in 1995. To extend this series' commitment to explore the ways in which technology is helping people with disabilities lead more independent lives, three new topics relative to living with disabilities in the 1990s are addressed: cognitive disabilities, accessibility, and how people in other countries are dealing with disability-related issues.

Savage Skies

In four visually stunning programs, SAVAGE SKIES celebrates the power, beauty and terror of weather with an intriguing, entertaining and informative journey around the world's skies.

Tales of the Serengeti

TALES OF THE SERENGETI, a unique natural history series, presents the spectacular wildlife of East Africa enriched with stories about the men and women who live and work in this natural theater. Set against the background of wild Africa, each episode features one of the Serengeti's principal characters -- the cheetah, the lion, the wildebeest and the hyena -- in a human subplot with Masai tribesmen, scientists, game wardens and filmmakers.

Instructional

The Americas' Family Kitchen with Vertamae Grosvenor

A blend of cooking, storytelling and cultural anthropology spiced with a dash of poetry, THE AMERICAS' FAMILY KITCHEN is a homespun cooking series that celebrates the rich traditions of African-Atlantic cooking. National Public Radio culinary anthropologist Vertamae Grosvenor highlights the diversity of pan-American cuisine.

Fat Man in France: A Journey with Tom Vernon

Gastronome and recreational cyclist Tom Vernon returns to PBS with a colorful bicycle tour of France. Vernon pedals his way through the French countryside, where he meets ordinary and extraordinary people and samples local specialties on the way.

The Frugal Gourmet

THE FRUGAL GOURMET rounds up "all time favorites" in a new season of cooking focusing on regional italian specialties and a special episode featuring Elmo (from Sesame Street) preparing dim sum.

In Julia's Kitchen with Master Chefs

Master chefs prepare their favorite recipes in Julia Child's own home kitchen and also provide viewers with helpful cooking tips. The series highlights a variety of talented chefs from across the country, each revealing his or her trademark fare.

The Victory Garden

THE VICTORY GARDEN is led by a team of regional hosts and guest experts and showcases gardening techniques and tips, innovations and updates, and chef Marian Morash's mouthwatering recipes and cooking demonstrations using the garden harvest. Viewers also enjoy armchair travel to important public and private gardens, exhibitions and commercial establishments across the United States and around the world.

The Woodwright's Shop

THE WOODWRIGHT'S SHOP takes viewers closer than ever to the woodworking action. The new "tool-cam" gives insight into the intimate interactions of tools -- from the days "when men were friends with oak and iron, and the grain in the wood told secrets to us."

Specials:

Act Against Violence: Help Wanted

ACT AGAINST VIOLENCE: HELP WANTED is a live, two-hour national broadcast aimed at recruiting adult volunteers in an effort to curb youth violence. This program blends entertainment, information, inspiration and a call to action in seeking volunteers to serve as youth mentors and to help with activities that provide positive alternatives to gangs, drugs, crime and violence. This special features performances by popular music groups and entertainers, documentary profiles of exemplary youth violence prevention activities and celebrity appeals for volunteers and offers stations regular intervals in which to localize their efforts.

Affirmation Today

For decades, the work of African-American artists has captivated both scholars and the public. From symbols of ritual, faith, myth and folklore to expressions of modernism and surrealism, their art has embodied what it means to be an African American, in all its complexity and diversity. Leroy Almon Sr., Frederick Brown, Sam Gilliam, Lois Mailou Jones and Keith Morrison are five contemporary African-American artists who share not only a common heritage, but also the belief that art is inseparable from life. AFFIRMATION TODAY presents conversations with these artists in their homes and studios, combined with historical film footage. It explores their interests, opinions and ideas, and how their cultural background helps shape their work.

Apollo 13: To the Edge and Back

APOLLO 13: TO THE EDGE AND BACK uses the harrowing, heroic story of Apollo 13 as a centerpiece to document a period of time and technological achievement in which the world became focused on the space race between the United States and the Soviet Union. Using archival footage, computer animation and interviews with the people who made history, the program shows how the exploration of space, for all its drama and discovery, served chiefly to prove that there's no place like home.

A. Philip Randolph: For Jobs and Freedom

Asa Philip Randolph (1889-1979) was a labor and civil rights leader throughout the 20th century. Founder of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, Randolph believed that improving the economic position of African Americans was the key to advancing their civil rights. Weaving archival photos and film footage with interviews, A. PHILIP RANDOLPH: FOR JOBS AND FREEDOM tells the story of this pioneer with the help of scholars, colleagues and contemporaries in the labor and civil rights movements.

Bakersfield Country!

Internationally-acclaimed country music legends Merle Haggard, Buck Owens and the Maddox Brothers & Rose lead a musical tour of the West Coast country music sound in BAKERSFIELD COUNTRY! The musical documentary explores the special relationship between California's Dust Bowl immigrants and the creation of their own unique style of American popular music. Using a wealth of archival photos, personal reminiscences and rousing performances of classic hit songs, the program reveals the style and origins of this popular music and the musicians who created its sound.

Carmen Miranda: Bananas Is My Business -- A P.O.V. Special

"A bowl of soup and the freedom to sing" is all Carmen Miranda wanted in life. Raised in poverty in Brazil, "the woman in the tutti-frutti hat" went on to become one of the highest paid entertainers of her era. Helena Solberg's song-filled movie reveals how Hollywood image makers transformed a talented entertainer into a "Latin Lollapalooza."

Championship Ballroom Dancing

CHAMPIONSHIP BALLROOM DANCING returns to PBS with exciting competition highlights as well as outstanding exhibition performances by U.S. and international champions. Taped on location at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Columbus, Ohio, the 90-minute gala showcases the dramatic finals of the International Latin and International Modern divisions and other exciting moments of the United States Ballroom Championships.

The Chenille Sisters: Making Rhythm

The Chenille Sisters perform several numbers that showcase their perfect three-part harmony, comic lyrics and colorful, eclectic costumes in this half-hour performance special. Connie Huber, Grace Morand and Cheryl Dawdy, a trio as comfortable in the folk setting as in the symphony hall, possess an ability to entertain everyone from youngsters to adults. The program includes comments from the Chenilles and behind-the-scenes footage focusing on the evolution of the group, whose name is "a spoof on the girl groups of the 50s who had elegant fabric names, like the Chiffons."

Children in America's Schools with Bill Moyers

This documentary examines national and local funding priorities while studying the question of equity within America's schools. Using powerful visual images and interviews with students, teachers and administrators, it illustrates the differences among inner city, rural and suburban schools. CHILDREN IN AMERICA'S SCHOOLS investigates the disparities that exist while exploring the national consciousness about equality. Bill Moyers narrates this penetrating documentary and moderates the one-hour town meeting immediately following the program.

Christmas at Saint Olaf

For more than 80 years, Saint Olaf College in Northfield, Minnesota, has heralded the arrival of Christmas with rich music and festive song. This special, taped in 1993, toasts the holiday season through the combined voices of five choral ensembles with the 100-member Saint Olaf Orchestra, who perform a rich variety of traditional and innovative compositions for chorus and orchestra.

Does Affirmative Action Unite Us Or Divide Us --
A "Think Tank" Special

One of the critical arguments taking place in America today concerns affirmative action. Critics say current policies set Americans against each other -- elevating the importance of race, gender and ethnicity at the expense of hard work and merit. Supporters claim that discrimination remains pervasive in the United States -- and that the government must continue to play a role in aiding women and minorities. With Bill Clinton and Bob Dole staking out opposing positions on the topic, affirmative action is an important election year issue.

A part of PBS's Democracy Project, this THINK TANK Special explores the historic roots of today's affirmative action debate and examines the prospects for reform. The program weaves together documentary footage, interviews and a panel discussion of noted academics and specialists.

Doubles: Japan and America's Intercultural
Children

DOUBLES: JAPAN AND AMERICA'S INTERCULTURAL CHILDREN sensitively and honestly explores the lives and experiences of the children of American and Japanese parents. Rejecting the term "half," they call themselves "doubles" and claim thereby twice the culture of those who lack their mixture of heredity and heritage.

The Flying Vet

Dr. Peter Trembath operates one of the most unusual veterinary practices in the world. As the only vet in the Katherine District in Australia's vast untamed Northern Territory -- an immense, stark wilderness of eucalyptus and acacias, swamps and plains -- Trembath and his assistant, Trish MacFarlane, fly great distances between Katherine township and the region's remote communities and cattle properties. Trembath and MacFarlane fly over some of the world's most unusual scenery and, at each place they touch down, treat an extraordinary variety of wild and domestic animals -- some found nowhere else in the world.

Frederick Douglass: When the Lion Wrote History

Frederick Douglass, former slave, journalist, author and social critic, was a leader in the abolitionist movement in post-Civil War America. FREDERICK DOUGLASS: WHEN THE LION WROTE HISTORY is the first comprehensive documentary to profile the life and work of Douglass, one of the most eloquent Americans of the 19th century. The special chronicles the life of this American hero, profiling his leadership on the controversial issues of slavery, freedom, civil rights and the American Constitution.

Genesis: A Living Conversation

GENESIS: A LIVING CONVERSATION features Bill Moyers discussing the Book of Genesis and its relevance for society with biblical scholars, writers, artists, psychotherapists, composers, lawyers, college presidents and translators. Each episode of the new, ten-part series focuses on a different story -- from the creation of the world to Joseph's exile in Egypt. Dramatic readings by Mandy Patinkin and Alfre Woodward bring contemporary issues such as racism, the role of women, dysfunctional families and environmental responsibility into the same forum as the eternal debates about the nature of faith, the struggle between good and evil, and the path to redemption.

The Germans: Portrait of a New Nation

Perhaps no country has been more affected by the end of the cold war than Germany. For four decades it was divided between East and West. On October 3, 1990, both Germanies were reunited under a democratic government. Five years after unification, THE GERMANS: PORTRAIT OF A NEW NATION profiles the German people at this critical juncture in their history. The documentary combines profiles of individual Germans with interviews of leading public officials and experts, including an exclusive interview with Chancellor Helmut Kohl. In addition, the program examines a variety of issues, including the economy, the changing welfare state, immigration, xenophobia and extremist violence, as well as the role of a united Germany in a post-Cold War world.

Great Tales in Asian Art

This program tells the beloved stories of India, Indonesia, Korea and Japan through masterpieces of visual and performing art that these tales have inspired for centuries. Filmed in Asia, GREAT TALES IN ASIAN ART provides a vibrant introduction to the traditions, beliefs and artistry of these four countries. The Ramayana, The Gita Govinda, The Tale of Genji and Korean Masked Dance-Drama are presented through a blend of paintings, sculpture, shadow plays, dance and dramatizations.

Hidden Mexico

The culture and people of Mexico are as rich, zesty and varied as the foods they create and consume. The cuisine, reflecting the country's ethnic influences, is a mixture of pre-Columbian American, European and Asian traditions, blended into something uniquely Mexican. The program introduces viewers to a variety of Mexican foods, including an exotic delicacy native to the mountains of Taxco: jumiles -- brownish-green, winged beetles used in a traditional sauce for tortillas, enchiladas and tamales.

Hoop Dreams

HOOP DREAMS is the remarkable true story of two African-American high school students who dream of playing in the National Basketball Association. Filmed over five years, the documentary follows the lives of William Gates and Arthur Agee from the summer after they leave elementary school through their entry into college. They soon discover that their dreams of glory become obscured amid the intense pressures of academics, family life, economics and athletic competition. The result is a rich and complex portrait of two inner-city boys and their families overcoming enormous odds as they pursue their dream.

The Inland Sea

THE INLAND SEA re-creates the vision of old Japan captured by Donald Richie in his classic travel memoir of the same name. The film juxtaposes the ongoing conflict between traditional and modern values with the serene beauty of the area known as the inland Sea -- the nearly landlocked, lake-like body of water bounded by three of Japan's four major islands. Enhanced by the music of composer Toru Takemitsu (Ran, Black Rain), the program documents a centuries-old way of life that is rapidly disappearing.

In Search of the Oregon Trail

While the popular story of the Oregon Trail is well known from Hollywood films and television, the actual experience of this great migration is more interesting and complex. This documentary, based largely upon the written diaries of the pioneers, looks at the actual day-to-day effort of the trip. It explores two areas often misunderstood: the real relationships of the pioneers with the Native-American tribes and the role women played on the trail.

Jack Lemmon

Jack Lemmon's remarkable career has spanned 40 years in film, television and theater. Featuring memorable sequences from his numerous films and the recollections of his peers -- including Neil Simon, Blake Edwards, Michael Douglas, Walter Matthau and Ann Margret -- this program offers an insider's look into this talented actor's life and career.

Jobs: The Class of 2000

JOBS: THE CLASS OF 2000 introduces viewers to students, teachers, parents, and business and labor people who are opening doors between schools and the real world of work. The program profiles young people engaged in various school-to-work programs throughout the country and the role played by mentors, teachers and parents. A compelling look at America's youth in action, the program also identifies opportunities to help students make the transition from school to work and looks at how the country is preparing for the workplace of the future.

Last Train Across Canada

Murray Sayle, reporter for the London Times, undertakes one of the last train journeys across Canada. From the Atlantic to the Pacific, he travels with a cross-section of Canadian characters, including Native American trappers, commuting businessmen, prospectors and Cajun musicians. Sayle visits wilderness communities and towns that will never be visited by rail again because the Canadian government has closed large sections of its transcontinental rail line.

Lena Horne: Finding Her Voice, An AMERICAN MASTERS Special

In this documentary, Lena Horne tells the story of her extraordinary journey to reluctant stardom. She was pushed into the chorus line of the famous Cotton Club when she was 16, pressured into a film career by the NAACP as the perfect vehicle to overcome Hollywood's racial stereotypes. Parlaying her movie stardom into a cabaret career, she became one of the world's top nightclub attractions -- the definitive chanteuse for more than 20 years. Now almost 79, Lena Horne still sparkles as she looks back over a life lived in the company of Duke Ellington, Billy Strayhorn, Ava Gardner, Gene Kelly and Count Basie, to name a few.

Leona's Sister Gerri -- A P.O.V. Special

It was a chilling image that captured the minds of tens of thousands -- a young woman, lying on a motel room floor, dead from an illegal abortion. Who was the woman in the anonymous photograph first published by Ms. magazine in 1973 and seen at pro-choice rallies since then? Filmmaker Jane Gillooly unravels the mystery of Gerri Santoro by re-creating the story of her life with the help of her sister Leona, her best friend and her daughters in a film that awakens the spirit of a woman who perished behind a veil of fear and secrecy.

Listening to Children: A Moral Journey with Robert Coles

LISTENING TO CHILDREN: A MORAL JOURNEY WITH ROBERT COLES is an engaging and intimate portrait of eight American children who struggle to make sense of an all too turbulent world. All must draw upon inner resources to come to terms with varying degrees of difficult issues including deteriorating families, alcoholism, affluence, the uncertainties of migrant life, AIDS, racism, poverty, violence and riots.

Lódz Ghetto

LÓDZ GHETTO chronicles the besieged and doomed city in Poland that held the second largest concentration of Jews in Nazi Europe. The film tells the extraordinary tale of the courage and defiance of the Lódz ghetto inhabitants through the writings and photographs they left behind. Using their own words, the film captures the fear, uncertainty and even self-deception that characterized life in the sealed ghettos. They speak of the love of life, family and religion, of endurance and betrayal, the struggle to survive and even the resignation to mass death. The ghetto was officially closed off from the rest of the city just months after the Nazi invasion of Poland in April 1940, and endured until the Russian liberation in January 1945. Ultimately, most of the Jews were sent to death camps. Of the almost 200,000 prisoners confined to the ghetto, 800 remained when Lódz was liberated.

A Lynching in Marion

On a hot summer evening in August 1930, in Marion, Indiana, a young African-American man, 16-year-old James Cameron, was convinced by his two friends to join them in their plan to rob a white couple on the local lover's lane. But the plan went awry and the three were taken into custody. A crowd of more than 10,000 people soon surrounded the jail where they were held. Cameron's two friends were dragged from the prison and hanged in the town square. "And then they came back for me," says Cameron. Cameron's life was spared just after the rope had been placed around his neck. Now, 65 years later, James Cameron tells his story in A LYNCHING IN MARION.

Matisse

This biography of one of the greatest painters of the 20th century is narrated by one of America's most-honored documentarians, Perry Wolff, a producer and writer for 40 years at CBS. Through Matisse's provocative paintings, which set the early 20th-century art world on its head, viewers experience the evolution of the artist's revolutionary style, seeing the young Matisse emerge as the leader of his generation of painters and mature as a great master. Through his elegant and powerful compositions and colors, viewers come to understand Matisse's life, his poignant relationship with his wife and his status as one of France's national treasures.

Maya Lin: A Strong Clear Vision
A P.O.V. Special

The Vietnam War Memorial was one of the most controversial monuments of its time. Architect-sculptor Maya Line was thrust into the eye of the storm when her design for the memorial was chosen. Withstanding bitter attacks, the 21-year-old college student held her ground with clarity and grace. In this Academy Award-winning film, Freida Lee Mock follows a decade in the life of this visionary artist.

The Merrow Report: Early Learning

Can all children learn at much higher levels? New research says yes, if teachers adopt innovative strategies now being used in only a few thousand public schools. This program follows 1st-, 2nd-, and 3rd-graders through a year at four public schools that claim to guarantee success for all children. The stakes are high; if children fail to grasp basic skills in reading and math, they're almost certain to fall dangerously behind in the years ahead.

The Morehouse Men

Morehouse College in Atlanta is the only African-American men's college in the United States. For 128 years, the college has educated America's black elite, attracting the most intelligent, ambitious and affluent African Americans. It boasts Martin Luther King, Jr. and Spike Lee among its graduates, and many believe that it will be the alma mater of the first black president of the United States. This one-hour documentary follows a group of students during their freshman year and explores the formal and informal processes whereby young boys are molded into "Morehouse men." In a compelling and intimate style, the film juxtaposes the students in the documentary against a world in which there are more African-American men in prison than there are in college.

Mountain's Mist and Mexico

The complex story of Mexican immigration to the United States is put into perspective through one person's exploration of his family's past. A legacy of hope, strength and cultural denial is sketched out against a backdrop of revolution, economic opportunity, displacement and survival.

Pass It On: The Mitchell/Ruff Legacy

This one-hour documentary examines the importance of mentoring through profiles of jazz musicians Duke Mitchell and Willie Ruff, whose lifelong mentoring commitments grew out of their own experiences. Over their long, successful careers, Mitchell and Ruff have passed on their knowledge and wisdom to musicians at high school and college campuses across the country. PASS IT ON examines Mitchell's and Ruff's experience and mentoring's influences on them. The documentary includes archival material as well as footage of Mitchell and Ruff as they mentor American youths today.

Paving the Way

PAVING THE WAY profiles four remarkable women who came of age in the 1950s and set their own course -- women who refused to let the era define their lives and their aspirations: Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg; Major General Jeanne Holm, U.S. Air Force, Ret.; Congresswoman Patsy Mink (D-Hawaii); and Reverend Addie Wyatt. The film's texture comes from the women's lives, their candid observations and personal recollections -- of the sacrifices they made to advance their careers; their defeats and successes; the loneliness and rewards of being the "first"; and how their choices affected the delicate balance of their family life.

PBS Debate Night: The Future Congress

A key component of PBS's Democracy Project, PBS DEBATE NIGHT: THE FUTURE CONGRESS is a unique evening of congressional debates, illuminating the important choices the voters face in this fall's House and Senate races.

Republican and Democratic Congressional leaders participate in the live national debate originating from Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia, moderated by Jim Lehrer of THE NEWSHOUR WITH JIM LEHRER. Dozens of local public television stations air their own live debates featuring local congressional races and citizen discussions immediately preceding or following the Williamsburg debate. The combination of a national and local debates across the country outlines the different visions offered by GOP and Democratic Congressional leaders. Citizens hear how their choices could affect actual Congressional action next year.

The People's Plague: Tuberculosis in America

From the 1880s to the 1950s, America waged a furious, full-scale war against an enemy that measured 1/25,000 of an inch. The enemy was a bacterium, and the disease it caused -- tuberculosis -- became a national obsession. The leading cause of death in 19th century America, TB claimed hundreds of thousands of lives, and changed millions more. THE PEOPLE'S PLAGUE: TUBERCULOSIS IN AMERICA examines American attitudes and actions toward TB from 1850 through contemporary times.

Pharaoh's Army

In this historical drama set in the Cumberland Mountains of Kentucky during the American Civil War, a Union captain and his cavalry troop took over the farm of a woman whose husband is fighting in the Confederate army. Far from the great battlefields, a private civil war erupts between John Hull Abston (Chris Cooper) and Sarah Anders (Patricia Clarkson), who are pulled by the war's undertow into choices they cannot fully control or comprehend.

Reality of a Dreamer: River North Dance Company

This performance program combines thrilling athletic and sensual jazz dance with great popular music. The special profiles one of Chicago's premiere dance troupes, the River North Dance Company, and offers a close look at six pieces from River North's diverse repertoire. The dances are set to music by Judy Garland, the Red Hot Chili Peppers, the Neville Brothers, Cole Porter, k.d. lang, Luther Vandross and the Eurythmics.

The Revolution of 1995

THE REVOLUTION OF 1995 offers a unique look at the behind-the-scenes workings of the history-making 104th Congress. The Republicans' surprise victory in the 1994 congressional elections marked the beginning of a new era -- for the first time in more than a century, Congress is trying to set the agenda for the United States.

Using their Contract with America as a blueprint, the Republicans set out to dramatically shrink the size of government. The program follows congressional leaders like House Speaker Newt Gingrich, Senate Majority Leader Robert Dole and House Minority Whip David Bonior into key meetings where they debate, deal and strategize.

Richard Wright: Black Boy

This film biography examines the life, work and legacy of Richard Wright. Born outside Natchez, Mississippi, in 1908, Wright overcame a childhood of poverty and oppression to become one of America's most influential writers. His first major works, Native Son and Black Boy, were runaway best-sellers that are still mainstays of high school and college literature classes. Wright played a role in many of the important social movements of his time. By the time of his mysterious death in 1960 at the age of 52, Wright had left an indelible mark on African-American letters and on the American imagination.

Running Out of Time

RUNNING OUT OF TIME is a humorous and provocative look at the serious results of time pressure and overwork on Americans today. Host Scott Simon, of National Public Radio's "Weekend Edition," examines possible political and personal solutions to the dilemma. The program also explores the concept of time, work and leisure throughout history and compares three societies -- the United States, Japan and Germany.

Sex, Teens, and Public Schools

SEX, TEENS, AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS, hosted by Jane Pauley, explores the conditions that have led to escalating rates of teen pregnancy, illustrates the costs and consequences of this national epidemic and, most importantly, examines the role that public schools can play in stemming the tide of early and unwanted pregnancy. By speaking with teen mothers, students, teachers, health-care providers and policy experts, the special explores the heated debate surrounding sex education and school-based clinics.

Songs of the Homeland

Tejano music was brought to world attention when Tejano superstar Selena was tragically murdered in Texas. SONGS OF THE HOMELAND tells the story of Tejano music and the distinctive role played by folk music traditions as Tejanos -- Texas Mexican-Americans -- adapted to an unfamiliar society.

Talk to Me: Conversations in America

This lively, thoughtful look at what it means to be an American today combines interviews and archival materials with a surprising mix of American culture -- from pre-Revolutionary paintings to Star Trek -- and profiles of four different American communities. The program includes interviews with psychologist Mary Pipher, whose book Reviving Ophelia has topped best-seller lists around the country; novelist Allan Gurganus (Oldest Living Conference Widow Tells All); distinguished historians Gordon Wood, Randall Kennedy and John Kuo Wei Tchen; and Rosemary Bray, journalist and author of the forthcoming memoir, Unafraid of the Dark.

What Can We Do About Violence? A Bill Moyers Special

WHAT CAN WE DO ABOUT VIOLENCE? A BILL MOYERS SPECIAL tells the story of citizens and communities working successfully to turn the tide on violence and keep their children safe. Moyers brings clarity and perspective to a problem that seems overwhelming. The four-hour special presents information that highlights successful solutions, including adult mentoring, conflict resolution, parenting training, peer education, alternative sentencing, violence prevention counseling, firearm safety, teen volunteerism, school-based services and community activism.

Who Plays God? Medicine, Money & Ethics in American Healthcare

WHO PLAYS GOD? is an in-depth look at the forces driving America's health-care crisis. The program examines American cultural expectations about life and death and how they drive health-care spending, and the ethical decisions that result from those expectations. Issues include life support and organ transplant. The special is co-hosted by ABC News medical correspondent George Strait and health-care policy specialist Uwe Reinhardt.

Future Public Television Programming Highlights

Addiction and Recovery: A Bill Moyers Special

This four-part mini-series will report on the personal and public costs of addiction, the scientific research on the physiology of addiction, and the challenges of recovery to individuals, families, corporations and our society as a whole.

The American Century

Drawing on more than nineteen million images that comprise the Time-Life picture archive, this unprecedented mini-series will tell the story of the 20th century through the eyes of some of the greatest photo-journalists in the world.

American Visions

Robert Hughes, Time magazine art critic, looks at America through the lens of its art -- its painting, sculpture, architecture and landmarks, tracing the artistic influences of entire historical eras, diverse ethnic groups and different geographic regions in the process. The first full-scale exploration of American art for television, the series follows nearly three centuries of the nation's visual culture. Hughes vividly illustrates how art conveys important messages about America's heritage.

Filmed in more than 100 locations and covering the period from the Spanish settlement in the 16th century to Soho in the 20th, AMERICAN VISIONS showcases some of the country's greatest art work and demonstrates how artists as popular as Georgia O'Keeffe and as anonymous as the Shakers have served as chroniclers, critics and shapers of their time.

Ancestors

This series introduces genealogy and family history with powerful stories of people who have made the connection to their family's history, and practical information on how to begin one's own search into the past.

Antiques Roadshow

Aunt Alice's tea set...that old quilt on the guest bed...a fading photograph of a distant relative...are they worth anything? Curious collectors in 13 cities across the country find out on ANTIQUES ROADSHOW. Hosted by antiques expert Chris Jussel, the series is part history lesson, part adventure, part soap opera. Specialists from the country's leading auction houses -- Butterfield & Butterfield, Christie's, William Doyle Galleries, Skinner and Sotheby's -- and independent dealers travel the country offering free appraisals of antiques and collectibles. ANTIQUES ROADSHOW listens in as owners recount tales of family heirlooms, yard sale bargains and long-neglected items salvaged from attics and basements, while appraisers reveal the fascinating truth about these finds. Chris Jussel introduces viewers to important historical and cultural sites on each of the 13 stops, and featured appraisers offer essays and tips on many aspects of collecting.

Astronauts

This is the "Real Stuff" about the kind of men featured in the movie "The Right Stuff" -- a rare behind-the-scenes look at the making of a NASA space shuttle crew. This documentary special follows a team of astronauts through months of training, culminating in their eventual flight on the Space Shuttle. It also examines the impact of the astronauts' lives on their families.

Attenborough in Paradise

Sir David Attenborough, one of the world's foremost nature aficionados, claims that the world's most beautiful, dazzling and glamorous birds have never before been filmed. New Guinea's birds of paradise -- like the ribbon tail, which measures four feet from its iridescent head to the end of its long white tail; the superb, which sports on its chest an emerald green triangular bib that opens like a fan; and the astonishing family of bowerbirds -- have long been elusive to filmmakers. Today, with better film stock and more ornithological research available, ATTENBOROUGH IN PARADISE is able to take viewers up trees and through swamps for a look at these extraordinary birds.

Backcountry

This series explores choice wilderness areas throughout North America and the world. Hosted by John Viehman, BACKCOUNTRY travels by backpacking, kayaking, camping, canoeing, climbing, snowshoeing and skiing -- revealing insights into the natural history and indigenous culture of the land, along with helpful tips about how to make the most of outdoor adventure.

Crime & Punishment in America

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT IN AMERICA traces the history of American criminal justice, and examines the dominant morality in various eras of American history, from the 17th century to the present. The series is based on the work of one of the nation's leading scholars of criminal justice history, Stanford University professor Lawrence M. Friedman, author of the Pulitzer Prize-nominated book Crime and Punishment in American History.

Death by Design

Every day, every hour, human bodies play host to countless deaths -- small suicides -- as billions of tiny cells sacrifice themselves for the greater good. DEATH BY DESIGN introduces viewers to the sophisticated, surprising and invisible world of cells -- a world both utterly alien and intimately familiar. Combining commentary from internationally-recognized biologists, state-of-the-art microcinematography, specially-created animation and clips from Hollywood movies, this one-hour program frees the science film of lab coats and scientific jargon to awaken viewers' innate curiosity about their cells.

The Federalist Papers

Federal regulations are under fierce attack and for the first time in nearly 60 years, Congress seeks to return massive federal programs to the states. Some Americans believe that the federal government has become an intrusive force in their lives, while others cry that Washington is in thrall to special interests. The debate over the proper nature and scope of the federal government continues to be passionate. This special series probes today's most critical questions against the backdrop of the wisdom contained in The Federalist Papers.

Two hundred years ago, when Alexander Hamilton, James Madison and John Jay wrote The Federalist Papers to rally support for the Constitution, they presciently put their finger on the issues which continue to dominate the political scene today: the powers of the President versus those of the Congress; the balance of authority between federal and state governments; those powers appropriate to any government and those rights reserved for the people; and party politics, elections and the power of special interests. Each of these dilemmas forms the basis of one of the four programs in the series, couched in terms of the issues that are roiling the halls of Congress, the editorial pages and talk-radio programs today.

The Fight in the Fields: Cesar Chavez and the Farmworker's Struggle

This documentary is the story of the first successful union for farmworkers and its charismatic leader Cesar Chavez. Chavez and the United Farmworkers Union (UFW) helped inspire the Chicano activism of the 1960s and 1970s and in the process involved millions of Americans in a non-violent fight for social justice.

The UFW combined the teachings of Mahatma Gandhi and the hard-earned lessons of the American civil rights movement and labor activism with Mexican-American traditions and values. The union ultimately won labor contracts with national grape and lettuce boycotts. The farmworkers were befriended by Robert Kennedy and attacked by Ronald Reagan and the Teamsters Union. As the heart of the UFW, Cesar Chavez was one of the most important Latino leaders in American's history.

Himalaya

Created by a titanic clash of continents, the Himalayas are the highest and yet the youngest range of mountains on earth. HIMALAYA is the story of the birth of the mountains and the life that colonized them. The program explores Nepal, Bhatan, East Pakistan and Tibet, observing how local wildlife adapted to the rarefied roof of the world.

Grand Canyon

This state-of-the-art time and motion special will use the canyon as the stage for an unparalleled visual extravaganza from the Age of the Dinosaurs in the canyon's pre-natal days all the way to its current glories.

Imaging America

IMAGING AMERICA is a three-part national news magazine series that puts its host on location, in America. Each report uses advanced news-gathering tools and cutting-edge style to "image" the news issues of today in the voices of American people. Each program is filmed in a different location to capture the impact of current events on that particular area. From Phoenix, Arizona, to Portland, Oregon, to Salisbury, Maryland, IMAGING AMERICA looks at an America of which most Americans are unaware.

In the Prime

This weekly series, geared toward the fastest-growing portion of the population -- midlifers aged 45-60 -- deals with issues such as midlife career changes, aging parents, personal finance, retirement planning, health and wellness, leisure and lifestyle. Veteran television journalist Deborah Potter hosts.

Inspired by Bach

This series includes six sixty-minute programs based on J.S. Bach's "Suites for Solo Cello" featuring Yo-Yo Ma interacting with a diverse collection of artists from varying disciplines.

The Marshall Plan: Bridge Over the Atlantic

Examines the great story of America's massive post-WWII re-development plan for Western Europe--the largest in history--which helped that devastated region rebuild itself and maintain democratic government in the face of Soviet and internal threats to popular rule.

Media Matters

MEDIA MATTERS is a magazine-formatted documentary special hosted by Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Alex Jones, who also hosts National Public Radio's weekly series "On the Media. The program consists of three segments, each reported by a prominent journalist, that examine different aspects of the performance of the written and electronic press and their coverage of major stories. The program also includes a "talk back" segment of viewer response to public television programs.

The Nehru Dynasty

The largest democracy in the world has for almost all of its existence been ruled by the members of one single family. Five generations of Nehrus have been involved in the emergence of independent India. The story of the Nehrus is one of the bonds which tied one generation to another and played out on a world stage.

Porgy and Bess: An American Voice

This documentary introduces the history of the world odyssey of this opera using performances and comments by performers and critics who examine the opera from musical, historical, racial, social, and gender perspectives.

Record Row: Cradle of Rhythm and Blues

From the mid-1950s to the mid-1970s, a 10-block stretch of south Michigan Avenue was Chicago's "musical mile" -- a boulevard of African-American dreams and disappointments that came to be known as Record Row. The rhythm and blues music industry that sprang up along Record Row provided opportunities for risk-takers and chart-breakers, both black and white.

Rock and Roll Hall of Famer Etta James narrates this documentary that explores a chapter in American music. The program highlights Vee Jay Records -- the most successful black-owned label before Motown and the first U.S. record label to release the Beatles -- and Chess Records, recording home to many legendary performing artists, including Etta James, Muddy Waters, Chuck Berry and Bo Diddley. Offering personal insights are Chess co-founder Phil Chess; former president of Vee Jay, Ewart Abner; "American Bandstand" host Dick Clark; "Soul Train" host Don Cornelius; "The Duke of Earl," Gene Chandler; performer Curtis Mayfield; Jerry "The Iceman" Butler and others.

Signature: George C. Wolfe

Everyone who meets George C. Wolfe seems altered by the experience -- both delighted and drained, swept along by his superhuman energy and charismatic creativity. Wolfe earned his second Tony this year for Bring in Da Noise, Bring in Da Funk. This program profiles the African-American playwright/director who also heads New York's legendary Joseph Papp Public Theater. The documentary, directed by Academy Award-winner Paul Wagner (THE STONE CARVERS, OUT OF IRELAND), follows Wolfe from rehearsal halls to hometown reunions and features interviews, readings from Wolfe, and comments from critics, colleagues and friends, including Tony Kushner, Gregory Hines and Patrick Stewart.

Spirits of the Jaguar: A NATURE Miniseries

NATURE presents Spirits of the Jaguar, a four-part miniseries on the natural history, people and wildlife of Central America and the Caribbean. The series explores the geological forces that shaped the region and set the stage for an almost bewildering profusion of exotic wildlife -- nearly 1,000 species of reptiles and amphibians populate Mexico alone.

Perhaps most important, however, is the miniseries' special historical emphasis on the people of the region, including the contributions of cultures not often found in traditional textbooks, such as those of the Olmecs, Toltecs and Arawaks - and the mysterious Taino. Incorporating the latest archeological discoveries and interpretations, the programs also provide new insights into the lives of the Mayans, who created what may once have been Earth's most scientifically and culturally advanced civilization.

The Suez Crisis

Marking the 40th anniversary of the expedition by British and French forces in 1956, THE SUEZ CRISIS tells of Britain's war plot against Egypt, the role of Britain's French and Israeli allies, and Egypt's humiliation at the hands of its old ally, the U.S., over the Suez operation. The program features revelations from recently-released British, U.S., Russian and Israeli documents and first-hand evidence from key participants in an imperialist venture that could have ignited a world war.

Talk to Me: Americans in Conversation
Travels with Al Roker

This new eight-part series is designed to inspire wanderlust in even the most sedentary couch potato. Each episode features "real" people who lend their unique perspectives and local color to the destinations. Whether it's a "must-see" hot spot or a place off the beaten track, the series offers a madcap gamut of possibilities bound to have viewers packing their bags before the final credits.

The Trial of Adolf Eichmann

In 1961, the world watched as a Jerusalem court tried Nazi SS Lieutenant Colonel Adolf Eichmann for crimes against the Jewish people. Using videotapes of the trial, along with exclusive interviews with trial witnesses, prosecutors and others, this program recounts the dramatic proceedings that revealed for the first time -- to a shocked world audience -- the campaign to exterminate European Jewry.

Vaudeville: An AMERICAN MASTERS Special

This special presentation, about the comedy, singing, dancing, juggling, acrobatic, magic and mime acts that enthralled our forebears, uses historic footage of actual performances and interviews with vaudeville veterans to explore the greatest live entertainment medium the English-speaking world has ever known.

Vaudeville's effect on popular entertainment continues to this day, decades after the last vaudeville theater closed. Ex-vaudevillians George Abbott, Ethel Barrymore, Fred Allen, Bob Hope, Jimmy Cagney, Burns & Allen, Constantin Stanislavski, Morton Gould, Burt Lancaster and Fanny Brice used what they learned on the variety stage to shape succeeding media: radio, film and especially television. VAUDEVILLE explores this continuing impact on contemporary entertainment forms, from dinner theater to the Theater of the Absurd, from "The Two Ronnies" to "The Three Tenors," from Jay Leno's monologue to the State of the Union address, from sitcoms like "Seinfeld" and "Friends," to MTV's every-six-minutes--something-different.

W.E.B. Du Bois -- A Biography in Four Voices

This documentary biography of Dr. William Edward Burghardt Du Bois (1868-1963) tells the life story of the great African-American scholar and political activist who became an international leader of the struggle against colonialism. The film is structured as a collection of four chronological documentary short stories, each written and narrated by a leading contemporary African-American scholar.

The Year in Ideas: A THINK TANK Special

The Year In Ideas: A THINK TANK Special examines some of the major ideas of 1996 that will cast shadows well into the 21st century. The program includes a look at why scholars believe lower birth rates in Western countries will eventually lead to smaller, less activist governments; how a trend towards interracial marriage is redefining affirmative action and racial politics; and how evidence of life on Mars might affect religion and philosophy. Shot on location in America, the program features insights of major thinkers and presents an intellectual preview of the year ahead. The program is part of PBS's Democracy Project.

PBS Programming For Children:
Meeting the Diverse Needs of the Younger Generation

Adventures From the Book of Virtues

Some of the most entertaining children's stories of all time are brought to life in ADVENTURES FROM THE BOOK OF VIRTUES, the first-ever primetime animated series on PBS. Based on The Book of Virtues, the best-selling anthology by William J. Bennett, the series draws its themes from a collection of classic American stories, European fairy tales, African fables, Bible adventures, Greek mythology, Asian folk tales and Native American legends that have captivated children and their families for countless generations.

Each tale is introduced by two children -- 11-year-old Zack Nichols and 10-year-old Annie Redfeather -- and a group of talking animals, including Plato, a wise and well-traveled buffalo. Plato collects great stories and when the children come to him with a question or problem, he finds the special story that addresses their concerns. Many of Hollywood's top stars have lent their voices to the heroic characters and villains in the series.

Arthur

Who is the world's most famous aardvark? As just about any young child knows, it's Arthur -- eight-year-old Arthur Read, that is -- hero of Marc Brown's best-selling Arthur books. Arthur, his sister, D.W., and their family and friends have been delighting beginning readers for 20 years.

ARTHUR, the daily half-hour animated series based on Brown's books, shows how Arthur and his friends use effective, age-appropriate, problem-solving skills. Each episode consists of two independent stories focusing on themes and events central to children's lives. Whether it's facing down a bully, worrying about a new teacher or being the very last person on earth to lose his baby teeth, Arthur and his friends manage to solve their crises with imagination, kindness and a lot of humor.

Barney & Friends

Continuing its third season with 10 new programs for fall, the lovable purple dinosaur and his young friends share adventures featuring songs, dances and games that make learning fun for children. This season's shows feature the exciting addition of a tree house where Barney and his friends can play and pretend. Themes include home, neighborhood, family, animal friends and transportation. Included in the BARNEY cast are two other dinosaur characters, the adorable Baby Bop and her big brother, B.J., as well as a flamboyant new character, Stella the Storyteller.

Bill Nye the Science Guy

From the fictional "Nye Labs" -- where there's always something bubbling in a beaker -- to far above the earth, Bill Nye takes science out of the classroom, then adds adventure and his own inimitable zaniness to prove just how integral science is to everyday life. Working alongside a diverse cast of children, science experts and celebrity guests, Nye introduces and explores each program's main topic using studio demonstrations and experiments. The demonstrations use inexpensive, safe household items to enable viewers to follow along at home or in the classroom.

Celebrate Storytelling with...

This special pays tribute to children's author Beatrix Potter, whose stories have captured the imaginations of children around the world. Meryl Streep narrates animated presentations of four of Potter's most popular stories, The Tale of Peter Rabbit, The Tale of Mr. Jeremy Fisher, The Tale of Two Bad Mice and The Tailor of Gloucester.

In The Mix

IN THE MIX begins its fourth season with new episodes, including solutions to violence and relationships, and repeats of the series that "manages to be both hip and responsible." Embracing the partnership built between an enthusiastic teen audience and the production staff, IN THE MIX takes its direction from teenagers across the country. Frank, issue-oriented investigative reports provide teens with information they need to make thoughtful decisions; high-profile celebrity interviews present refreshing angles on favorite personalities; "student shorts" showcase videos created by teenagers nationwide; and "teens who make a difference" highlight positive messages about the accomplishments of young people of diverse backgrounds, providing viewers with positive role models.

Katie and Orbie

The animated preschool series KATIE AND ORBIE features five-year-old Katie, who explains the world to her new-found friend from another planet -- the small, pink and inquisitive Orbie. The stories cover a wide variety of "first-time" experiences, such as the first trip on a bus, bringing home a new pet or losing a first tooth. While primarily entertaining, the stories always conclude with a valuable lesson.

The series, based on the beloved characters found in the award-winning books created by Susan and Ben Wicks, is presented in the charming illustration style used in the books.

Kratts' Creatures

From Costa Rica's lush rain forests to Australia's Great Barrier Reef to Africa's dusty savanna, KRATTS' CREATURES is the first wildlife series designed specifically to excite kids about all kinds of wild creatures, in exotic lands as well as in their own backyards, by getting them right into nature. Host-brothers Martin Kratt and Chris Kratt, two young, award-winning nature filmmakers with degrees in zoology and biology, respectively, take a radical approach to wildlife filmmaking: they help kids not only see a baboon, but feel what it's like to be a baboon. On their far-flung expeditions into the world's jungles, forests and oceans, the Kratts literally swim with sharks in the Caribbean, camp out with baboons in Central America and get completely turned around searching for the Tasmanian devil in Australia.

An innovative mix of wildlife filmmaking, creative animation and humorous dialogue, KRATTS' CREATURES is the first wildlife series of its kind for elementary and middle school kids.

Lamb Chop's Play-Along

In the Emmy Award-winning LAMB CHOP'S PLAY-ALONG, Shari Lewis and her rambunctious gang of puppets -- Lamb Chop, Hush Puppy and Charlie Horse -- encourage kids to get up and sing, dance and play along. This daily "anti-couch potato show" is designed to get children to be "doers, not just viewers."

The Magic School Bus

THE MAGIC SCHOOL BUS -- the popular animated science series for school-age kids -- motors into its third season on PBS with new episodes and encores from past seasons. Lily Tomlin returns in her Emmy Award-winning role as Ms. Frizzle, the teacher extraordinaire, and special guest star Malcolm-Jamal Warner returns as The Producer. Ms. Frizzle, along with her sidekick, Liz, leads her class on fantastic "field trips" into the world of science with the help of a magically transformable school bus. The series' characters and plots are designed to demonstrate to all children -- especially girls and minorities -- that science is for everyone. Celebrity voice-overs for the new episodes include Ed Asner, Rosalind Chao, Matt Frewer, Dan Marino, Dolly Parton, Alex Trebek, Jessica Walter and Paul Winfield.

Marsalis on Music

MARSALIS ON MUSIC is a young people's series conceived and written by 33-year-old trumpet virtuoso Wynton Marsalis. The four-part series covers the basics of music appreciation. To explore these fundamentals, Marsalis creates a unique dialogue between his jazz band and the students of the Tanglewood Music Center Orchestra, led by maestro Seiji Ozawa. Group and solo performances, a live audience, imaginative graphics and visual effects, computer animation, and even a basketball are all used to teach and inspire a new generation of young music lovers and their families.

Mister Rogers' Neighborhood

MISTER ROGERS' NEIGHBORHOOD features theme weeks that give special attention to learning and growing, particularly helpful as children settle into their seasonal schedules at school or child-care and in their family life. Because of Fred Rogers' extensive studies in child development, his scripts about topics related to learning and growing match a young child's interests and level of understanding. These Neighborhood visits caringly balance joys and delights of childhood with genuine help for some of the difficult real-life issues that young children face.

National Geography Bee

The annual National Geography Bee is part of the National Geographic Society's educational program to revitalize geography in U.S. schools. Students in grades four through eight compete to become world geography champions in their region and state. The semifinalists, representing all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Department of Defense schools and five U.S. territories, proceed to the national competition. The one-hour special features the 10 finalists, who compete for $50,000 in scholarship prizes. The finals include questions, graphics, maps and slides on topics spanning meteorology, international affairs, and cultural and social history.

Newton's Apple

Emmy Award-winning NEWTON'S APPLE, the fast-paced and offbeat family science magazine, introduces a new team of multi-cultural presenters. Su Chin Pak, Dave Huddleston and Brian Hackney join Peggy Knapp and David Heil to answer viewers' quirky and provocative questions about science, math and engineering curiosities in all aspects of life. Each unique segment is packed with fascinating revelations for adult viewers and presented with so much fun and energy that younger viewers are hooked as well.

The Puzzle Place

THE PUZZLE PLACE is a daily series for young children and the adults who care for them that helps kids celebrate diversity -- to appreciate both the differences between people and the ties that bind them together. Using a lively combination of song, story, comedy, puppets and lots of fun, THE PUZZLE PLACE takes a gentle and always entertaining approach to sowing the seeds of self-esteem, cooperation and respect for others in young children. The program features an ensemble cast of six delightful "puppet kids" -- three boys and three girls -- from across the country and from diverse backgrounds, who come together at a colorful, magical spot called The Puzzle Place. Each program follows a single storyline that emphasizes a particular theme. The stories are designed to engage young children's imaginations while helping them learn more about themselves and others.

Reading Rainbow

READING RAINBOW enters its 14th season on PBS. This Emmy Award-winning series takes young viewers on adventures that help stimulate an interest in reading for pleasure and entertainment.

Reality Check: Club Connect Looks at World Racism

CLUB CONNECT, a magazine-style series for teenagers, presents four half-hour specials with the theme, Reality Check: CLUB CONNECT Looks at World Racism, produced by WTVS Detroit as part of the European Broadcasting Union's international youth program exchange. Hosted by a multicultural ensemble.

Sesame Street

SESAME STREET, now in its 27th season, continues its literacy campaign, Let's Read and Write!, and also introduces a new endeavor, Sesame Street Games, a multimedia and community outreach initiative that underscores the message of family fitness while espousing the ideals of teamwork, cooperation and self-esteem. The series places additional emphasis on beginning reading skills for preschool children and delves into stories, phonemic awareness, writing, sight words and more.

Shining Time Station

This half-hour daytime children's series integrates dramatic narrative, music, animation and creative play as it tells tales about life in an enchanted railroad station. George Carlin stars as the magical 18-inch-tall Mr. Conductor. Engineer Billy Twofeathers (Tom Jackson), Station Master Stacy Jones (Didi Conn), lovable rogue Schemer (Brian O'Connor) and the beloved Thomas the Tank Engine and friends also return. Each of the shows highlights a theme that entertains and teaches.

Storytime

STORYTIME introduces young children to the exciting world of stories and literature with help from guest celebrities, such as Tim Allen, Annie Potts, Little Richard, John Goodman, Tom Selleck and Shari Belafonte, and a puppet named Kino. The goals of the series are to create an early passion for books and to inspire parents and caregivers to spend more time reading to children.

Wishbone

WISHBONE follows the exploits of a pint-sized canine hero with big ideas, who serves as a bridge between life and literature. This live-action series is designed to introduce children to the great classics of world literature and to help them develop an appetite for reading.

In each episode, Wishbone the dog (a Jack Russell terrier) interacts with his human friends Joe, David and Samantha. These experiences of everyday life trigger his imagination and he finds himself in signature scenes from literary classics. Some of his adventures include sailing a raging sea as Odysseus in a scene from The Odyssey, sniffing out clues as Sherlock Holmes in The Hound of the Baskervilles and playing sidekick Sancho Panza in Don Quixote. This entertaining format gives children a fun introduction to the stories and universal themes in these timeless classics.

Nova Online
"Odyssey of Life"
You'll never look at the world -- or yourself -- the same way again after you check out this site from Nova Online. Featuring amazing pictures of life before birth from noted microphotographer Lennart Nilsson, this eye-opening site includes a cyber-debate on the provocative question, "How Did We Get Here?," an interview with Nilsson, and video clips of morphing embryos.

http://www.pbs.org/nova/ (available Saturday, November 23)

Frontline Online
"Secret Daughter"
The story of a mixed race daughter and the mother who gave her away becomes a larger journey into America's racial divide and the hidden history of Hollywood and showbiz with this thought-provoking companion site. Visitors can learn how to research their own family history with a section devoted to genealogy tips and organizations, listen to interviews (RealAudio) from the on-air broadcast, share their own thoughts about racial identity and interracial relationships, or discover the blurred racial lines of some of the most famous families and individuals throughout history.

Regarding Vietnam: Stories Since the War
Using the strengths of the Internet to extend and expand a decades-long discussion, PBS Online and P.O.V. Interactive have created a new Web site for personal reflections on the impact of the Vietnam War era, as well as stories surrounding the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington, D.C. The site invites individuals to describe how the War and the Wall have changed their lives and shaped their perspectives. Recent online contributors have included Pulitzer-prize winner Sydney Schanberg ("The Killing Fields"); America's most decorated veteran Colonel David Hackworth (ret.); and the founder and executive director of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Foundation, Jan Scruggs.

Online NewsHour
"Russia After Yeltsin's Surgery"/"Customs and Traditions"/"When Work Disappears"
During the week of November 25-29, the Online NewsHour will present three forums in which guests will respond online to questions submitted by Web visitors. On Wednesday, November 25th, NewsHour special correspondent Simon Marx will discuss the current state of Russia in "Russia After Yeltsin's Surgery." On November 27th, social anthropologist Sidney Mintz will expound upon the ceremony associated with Thanksgiving in "Customs and Traditions." And on November 29th, Harvard professor William Julius Wilson will answer questions about what happens to the inner-city when industry leaves in "When Work Disappears."

PBS PRIMETIME TELEVISION HIGHLIGHTS FOR THE WEEK (http://www.pbs.org/programs/)

The following primetime programs are scheduled to premiere on many PBS stations this week. Please always check with your local PBS station for a complete schedule of exact dates and times. PBS television schedules are created at the local level, so some national programs may not be available in your area. If you are interested in seeing a particular program, please contact your local PBS station. As public broadcasting expands its presence on the Internet, many programs have companion Web sites for users to extend their experience beyond a TV broadcast and for international visitors to enjoy the quality programming associated with PBS.

Broadcast times are in Eastern Time (ET) **

(STEREO) Indicates programs in stereo
(DVS) Indicates programs with descriptive video

Nova
"Odyssey of Life - The Unknown World"
Monday, November 25, 1996 (8-9:00 pm ET)
Microphotographer Lennart Nilsson turns his lens toward the amazing unseen war that human bodies fight every day against bacteria, viruses, fungi and other microscopic intruders, with hair-raising close-ups of tiny mites, beetles and borers that share humans' everyday surroundings. (CC, Stereo) Visit the Nova Web site (http://www.pbs.org/nova/) from PBS ONLINE .

Lena Horne: In Her Own Voice
An "American Masters" Special
Monday, November 25, 1996 (9-10:00 pm ET)
Lena Horne tells the story of her extraordinary journey to reluctant stardom from her early days in the chorus line of the Cotton Club when she was 16, to her film career in Hollywood. In addition to interviews with Horne and her family, the documentary includes interviews with Ossie Davis, Alan King, Dionne Warwick, and Ricardo Montalban.

L.A. Champions
Monday, November 25, 1996 (10-11:00 pm ET)
This program profiles high school basketball in South Central Los Angeles from the spirit and excitement of the championship game through the reality of joblessness that often follows after graduation. (CC)

Nova
"Odyssey of Life - The Unknown World"

Tuesday, November 26, 1996 (8-9:00 pm ET)
The final episode reveals for the first time how Nilsson achieves some of his breathtaking footage. Nilsson demonstrates how he films such spectacles as a human egg cell during conception, a journey through the aorta, a kiss from a molar's point of view and the quivering vocal chords of famed opera diva Birgit Nilsson. (CC, Stereo) Visit the Nova Web site (http://www.pbs.org/nova/) from PBS ONLINE .

Frontline
"Secret Daughter"
Tuesday, November 26, 1996 (9-11:00 pm ET)
Frontline producer June Cross, the child of a white mother and an African-American father, tells the intricate story of her own family through the prism of the changing face of race relations in America. (CC, Stereo) Visit the Frontline Web site (http://www.pbs.org/frontline/) from PBS ONLINE.

National Geographic's Inside the White House
Wednesday, November 27, 1996 (8-9:30 pm ET)
Viewers are taken behind the scenes of one of the most famous residences in the world -- through basement corridors, kitchens and even into the private quarters of the First Family -- for a fascinating glimpse of "America's Home" from the inside looking out. (CC, DVS, Stereo) Visit the Inside the White House Web site (http://www.pbs.org/whitehouse/) from PBS ONLINE.

Maya Lin: A Strong Clear Vision
A P.O.V. Special
Wednesday, November 27, 1996 (9:30-11:00 pm ET)
This documentary chronicles a decade in the life of visionary artist Maya Lin, whose design of the Vietnam Veterans' Memorial in Washington, DC thrust her into the debate over one of the most bitterly disputed public monuments in American history. (CC) Visit the Re: Vietnam - Stories Since the War Web site (http://www.pbs.org/stories/) from PBS ONLINE.

Great Railway Journeys III
"Aleppo to Aqaba with Alexei Sayle"
Thursday, November 28, 1996 (8-9:00 pm ET)
Liverpool comedian Alexei Sayle becomes Sayle of Arabia as he battles his way from Aleppo to Aqaba, swapping jokes with a Syrian comic, bartering in broken French and threatening to blow up the trains. (CC, Stereo)

...Talking With David Frost
"Andrew Lloyd Webber/Luciano Pavarotti"
Friday, November 29, 1996 (10-11:00 pm ET)
David Frost talks with Andrew Lloyd Webber, composer of such hits as "Evita," "Cats," "Phantom of the Opera," and "Sunset Boulevard," and tenor Luciano Pavarotti. The interview with Lloyd Webber originally aired February 6, 1991 and the interview with Pavarotti originally aired December 16, 1994.

Media Literacy: The New Basic
Tuesday, December 3, 1996 (10-11:00 pm ET)
Television journalists Walter Cronkite and Hugh Downs, students, teachers and leading media educators join host John Merrow in this special that challenges American educators to help young people learn to navigate the sea of messages flooding into their lives through the media. (CC, Stereo)

A Grand Day Out/A Close Shave
Wednesday, December 4, 1996 (8-9:00 pm ET)
Wallace -- a mild-mannered, if somewhat eccentric, cheese loving inventor, and his faithful dog Gromit, return to PBS in the Oscar-nominated "A Grand Day Out" and the Oscar-winning "A Close Shave." In "A Grand Day Out," Wallace and Gromit prepare for a weekend away, while in "A Close Shave," the pair find themselves starting a new business to keep themselves in cheese and crackers (CC)

Great Performances
"Musicals Great Musicals: The Arthur Freed Unit at MGM"
Wednesday, December 4, 1996 (9-10:30 pm ET)
Cyd Charisse, Leslie Caron, Ann Miller, Mickey Rooney, and many others share reminiscences in this 90-minute special that salutes Arthur Freed, the man responsible for "Meet Me in St. Louis," "An American in Paris" and "Singin' in the Rain."

Great Railway Journeys III
"Mombasa to the Mountains of the Moon with Benedict Allen"
Thursday, December 5, 1996 (8-9:00 pm ET)
Explorer Benedict Allen travels on the so-called Lunatic Line, learning to ride a camel and discovering the source of the White Nile along the way. (CC, Stereo)

No Time to Be a Child
"Breaking Ties"
Thursday, December 5, 1996 (10-11:00 pm ET)
This documentary goes inside the lives of kids from Chicago, Florida and Los Angeles, providing their unique points of view and revealing the complex issues that kids face as they struggle to break through the walls of poverty. (CC, Stereo)

Great Performances
"Bobby McFerrin: Loosely Mozart - The New Innovators of Classical Music"
Friday, December 6, 1996 (9-10:30 pm ET)
Vocal phenomenon Bobby McFerrin appears as performer, conductor and host of this special co-starring Yo-Yo Ma, Marcus Roberts and Chick Corea. The telecast was recorded in November at New York's Masonic Lodge and features the famed Orchestra of St. Luke's. (Stereo)

Nature
"Echo of the Elephants: The Next Generation"
Sunday, December 8, 1996 (8-9:00 pm ET)
This special, a sequel to the highly popular 1993 "Echo of the Elephants," reunites viewers with researcher Cynthia Moss and elephant matriarch Echo, whose extended family in Kenya's Amboseli National Park has been the subject of Moss' famous studies for nearly 30 years. (CC, Stereo, DVS)

INTRODUCTION
by Bill Moyers

Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden . . . Noah and the Flood . . . God's call to Abraham . . . Jacob wrestling with the angel . . . Joseph in exile in Egypt. The stories found in the Book of Genesis captured our ancestors' imaginations more than three thousand years ago--and they hold us today. What explains their power and endurance?

For one thing, to millions of people they are more than stories, they are sacred texts, sanctified over time by so many communities of faith that they resonate with a power and knowledge beyond our own.

They also challenge. These stories do not all have happy endings. They offer no easy answers to hard questions. They can leave us puzzled, forcing us to confront our own quandaries without pat solutions. Reading the story of Noah and the Flood, I am haunted by the ordeal of the survivor. I find Noah after the Flood both mystifying and troubling: God had spared him because he was a man "righteous in his generation," but he hardly behaves the way we'd expect a model of righteousness to behave. His story is full of contradictions and divine mystery--just like most of the stories in Genesis, just like our own.

Sunday 5-7	NATURE Nomads of the Wind "Distant Horizons" The final great migrations of the Polynesians were their most ambitious. North to Hawaii -- a land with unique plants and animals; and southwest to New Zealand, a land of snow and ice, parrots and penguins. NAAT 1211 R CC Stereo DVS		MASTERPIECE THEATRE Much Ado About Nothing The victorious warrior Don Pedro and his troop pay a visit to the Duke of Messina. Don John, Don Pedro's malevolent brother, thwarts Claudio's marriage by arranging for him to witness Hero's dalliance with another man. Don John's malicious plot is unmasked by the local constables. Claudio, to atone for his culpability in Hero's death, agrees to marry an unknown cousin of Hero's; the veiled bride turns out to be Hero herself. MAST 2427 CC Stereo
Monday 5-8	THE AMERICAN EXPERIENCE The Way West "Westward, the Course of Empire Takes Its Way/"The Approach of Civilization" The first episode charts the opening decades of frantic expansion, from the 1840s through the Civil War. The ever-quickening pace of expansion led to a series of bloody confrontations between Native Americans and white emigrants, culminating in 1862's Minnesota conflict and two years later, the massacre at Sand Creek. The second program chronicles the four-year period following the Civil War. This period was marked by two great climaxes: the triumph, in 1868, of Red Cloud and Crazy Horse over the U.S. Army on the Bozeman Trail, and the joining, in 1869, of the two ends of the transcontinental railroad at Promontory Point in Utah. AMEX 707 (W) CC Stereo
Tuesday 5-9	THE AMERICAN EXPERIENCE The Way West "The War for the Black Hills"/"Ghost Dance" This program follows the desperate struggle over the last unceded territories of a once vast Indian domain. By 1875, the stage was set for a final showdown between the U.S. Army and the tribes of the Great Plains. The final episode examines the rise of the Ghost Dance religion, and the last, horrendous massacre at Wounded Knee. By 1893, when historian Frederick Jackson Turner declared that the frontier had closed, most Native Americans and whites knew that the West had been, in large part, lost and won. AMEX 709 (W) CC Stereo
Wednesday 5-10	MARK RUSSELL COMEDY SPECIAL MRCS 2002 Stereo		CHAMPIONSHIP BALLROOM DANCING (1995) This program showcases the dramatic finals of America's premiere ballroom dancing competition and includes behind-the-scenes dancer profiles and exhibition performances. Wednesday 6-14	AN AMERICAN EXPERIENCE SPECIAL: The Great San Francisco Earthquake/The Hurricane of '38/The Johnstown Flood On April 18, 1906, an earthquate with the force of approximately 12,000 times the power of the atomic bomb hit San Francisco. This program uses archival footage and photographs to tell the story of that catastrophic event and the citizenry's remarkable response to it. In September 1938, within 24 hours of the weather bureau's benign forecast, a hurricane ripped into the New England shore with enough fury to set off seismographs in Sitka, Alaska. In its time, it was the most devastating storm recorded in North America. In the spring of 1889, the heaviest rains ever recorded fell on the mountains of western Pennsylvania. More than 200,000 tons of water a minute ran down the narrow valley toward the city of Johnstown. Within 10 minutes, 2,200 men, women and children were swept to their deaths or incinerated in fires caused by oil-soaked debris. AEXS 000 CC DVS

	8:00 PM	8:30 PM	9:00 PM	9:30 PM	10:00 PM	10:30 PM
Sunday 7-16	NATURE Echoes from the Ice Massive walls of ice and spectacular Alaskan scenery provide the backdrop to humpback whales, grizzlies and a magnificent show of the northern lights. NAAT 1103 R CC Stereo DVS		MASTERPIECE THEATRE Body & Soul Anna Gibson has been in a convent for 16 years. When her brother dies, she is forced to leave the convent. Her biggest challenge is to save the family business from going bankrupt. Anna returns to the convent and receives a mixed reception from the other sisters. MAST 2315 R CC DVS		MYSTERY! Prime Suspect 3 (rpt) MYST 1429 R CC DVS
Monday 7-17	EVENING AT POPS "Penn & Teller and Helen Huang" The inimitable magic show/comedy duo, with Keith Lockhart and the Boston Pops, are joined by acclaimed young pianist Helen Huang, who makes a special guest appearance. EVEN 1802 Stereo		BATTLEFIELD The Battle of Midway By 1941 the Japanese had built -- largely in secret -- a powerful carrier fleet whose awesome potential was demonstrated in the attack on Pearl Harbor. However, the great sea battle at Midway was fought entirely by aircraft, and at no stage did the two warring fleets come within sight of each other. With the advantage of radar and the ability to read enemy codes, the United States Pacific Fleet achieved supremacy in the Pacific. BAFI 103 CC
Tuesday 7-18	THE WINDSORS: A ROYAL FAMILY I'm Damned If I'm an Alien/Brothers at War The first hour of the series shows how completely King George V and his advisors transformed the royal house of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha into the House of Windsor when the family's German heritage became a serious public relations liability. The second hour looks behind the sensationalism and sentimentality at the story of Edward VIII and his abdication to marry American divorcee Wallis Simpson. WIRF 101(W) R CC Stereo				P.O.V. Home Economics: A Documentary of Suburbia Jenny Cool interviewed women in a suburban housing development outside Los Angeles. She discovered a fragile lifestyle dominated by societal pressures and the daily commuter grind. AMDO 807 CC
Wednesday 7-19	THE WINDSORS: A ROYAL FAMILY The Image of a Queen/Family Affairs The third hour follows the reign of Elizabeth II and shows how, beginning with her televised coronation in 1953, the Queen and her family made shrewd use of the media to maintain the aura of the popularity of the monarchy. The fourth hour reviews the last decade, in which the monarchy plunged from general approval into disarray, brought down by the very forces it had used to promote itself. The series concludes by asking whether and how the House of Windsor might reinvent itself for the new millennium. WIRF 103(W) R CC Stereo				AMERICAN PLAYHOUSE Blown Sideways Through Life In this screen adaptation of her successful, one-woman, off-Broadway show, Claudia Shear presents a sly and poignant investigation of the search for an identity beyond mere job description. PLAH 1301 CC Stereo "unedited version"
Thursday 7-20	CLIVE JAMES' POSTCARDS London James revisits the area of London where he lived when he first immigrated from Australia. In this episode, James concentrates on changes since the sixties -- and on continuity. CLPO 103 CC Stereo		MYSTERY! Prime Suspect 3 Colin Jenkins implicates Jimmy Jackson in a child prostitution ring. Edward Parker-Jones gives Jackson an alibi for the night of the murder. Tennison smells a cover-up and her suspicions are confirmed when vital evidence suddenly disappears. MYST 1430 R CC Stereo DVS		WOMEN OF COURAGE Through archival footage and firsthand accounts, this program tells the little-known story of the 1,074 American females who in 1942 began flying military aircraft during World War II. WCOR 000 R CC

Special guests include Metropolitan Opera star Sally Wolf, Take 6, Raquel Welch and Marilyn Cooper . EVEN 1605 R Stereo	BATTLEFIELD The Battle of Stalingrad While the German 6th Army desperately tried to push back the Soviet defenders, Stalingrad was encircled by a Soviet counterattack and the 6th Army was cut off. Hitler refused to sanction a withdrawal; a Luftwaffe airlift failed; a relief offensive was beaten back. When the battle was over, Hitler had lost more than 250,000 men and his last chance for victory in the East. BAFI 104 CC
Tuesday 7-25	LIVE FROM LINCOLN CENTER Mostly Mozart Opening Concert Music director Gerard Schwarz leads the Mostly Mozart orchestra in a program of Handel, Kreisler, Mendelssohn and Mozart. Guest soloists include pianist Alicia Delarrocha and violinist Gil Shaham. Hugh Downs hosts. LVLC 2005 Stereo		P.O.V. Dealers Among Dealers Filmmaker Gaylen Ross takes viewers inside the virtually impenetrable world of diamond and precious stone trading. The film captures the drama, ritual and culture of the amazing world of New York's gem trade. AMDO 808 CC "unedited version"
Wednesday 7-26	AN EVENING OF CHAMPIONSHIP SKATING (1994) In this progam, some of figure skating's biggest names -- as well as talented hopefuls -- combine world-class athletic skill with show-stopping choreography. ECHM 000 CC Stereo	HIGHGROVE - Nature's Kingdom Narrated by Ian Holm, the program follows Prince Charles, his staff and wildlife advisors as they work with nature to restore Highgrove estate's pristine environment. HNAK 000 CC Stereo	MARY CHAPIN CARPENTER: An "In The Spotlight" Special This program features clips from concerts at Wolf Trap, near Washington, DC and the Bottom Line in New York City as well as interview and documentary footage. MCCA 000 Stereo
Thursday 7-27	CLIVE JAMES' POSTCARDS Bombay Bombay, India's city of dreams. Big business meets the Bombay film world against the backdrop of intense poverty, outrageous wealth and relics of the Raj. James talks to the children who live on the street and discovers why, in spite of it all, Bombay is still a city of hope. CLPO 104 CC Stereo	Mystery! Prime Suspect 3 Tennison believes she has a prime suspect for the murder of Colin Jenkins. She has to fight to keep control of the investigation as it becomes increasingly clear that her superiors have their own agenda. MYST 1431 R CC Stereo DVS	WILD WHEELS This program showcases 46 "art cars," a folk art form that's gaining popularity nationwide. Filmmaker Harrod Blank drives cross-country in his own art car (named "Oh My God!") to seek out others like him--people who cover their cars with everything from mirrors to faucets to grass. WILW 000 R CC
Friday 7-28	WASHINGTON WEEK IN REVIEW WWIR 3504 CC Stereo / WALL STREET WEEK WSWK 2504 CC Stereo	THE LANGUAGE OF LIFE WITH BILL MOYERS "The Heart of Things/"Come Celebrate with Me" This program was taped during the 1994 Geraldine R. Sunday 7-30	NATURE New Guinea "Other Worlds" This episode travels to the interior of the island and introduces birds of paradise and the cassoway, a huge bird so powerful it can tear a person apart with one kick. The segment also explains the discovery of people living as throwbacks to the Stone Age. NAAT 1020 R CC Stereo DVS		MASTERPIECE THEATRE Body & Soul Changing her nun's habit for a suit, Anna travels to London to try to save her family's mill. At the meeting, she impresses the bankers. A Japanese trade delegation is interested in visiting the mill. Beattie continues to undermine her plans. MAST 2317 R CC DVS		MYSTERY! Prime Suspect 3 (rpt) MYST 1431 R CC Stereo DVS
Monday 7-31	EVENING AT POPS "A Tribute to the Music of George Gershwin" This episode features selections from Gershwin's Broadway, classical and jazz compositions. EVEN 1803 Stereo		BATTLEFIELD The Battle of Normandy By 1944, the Allies were ready to launch their assault on Hitler's Fortress Europe. They assembled several million men, vast quantities of specialized equipment and more than 10,000 war planes. The first 24 hours were critical, and by nightfall on June 6, 1944, the Allies had a foothold. After many months of bitter, bloody fighting, France was liberated and the Allied armies stood poised on the threshold of the Reich. BAFI 105 CC
Tuesday 8-1	NOVA Codebreakers With special cooperation from the U.S. National Security Agency, NOVA tells the story of World War II codebreaking, from the better-known saga of "Enigma" to the largely unknown tale of "Purple." NOVA 2101 R CC Stereo		DAYS OF MAJESTY This documentary examines British royal ceremonies that may be unfamiliar to Americans, but are no less significant or rich in tradition than the Changing of the Guard. The program interviews spectators and people behind the scenes. Using specially-shot footage, archival film and an original soundtrack, the film offers Anglophiles, Royals-watchers, and the merely curious an informative and often witty introduction to an essential part of British culture. DAMA 000 R CC Stereo
Wednesday 8-2	GALAPAGOS: A World Apart This special explores the unique wildlife paradise of the Galapagos Islands, located in the Pacific Ocean off the coast of Ecuador. The islands are home to a fascinating collection of creatures, from giant 400-pound tortoises and four-foot-long marine iguanas to equatorial penguins and blue-footed boobies. An archipelago consisting of 13 main islands, the Galapagos Islands erupted from the sea about 400 million years ago, creating a magnificent wilderness of volcanoes -- some still active -- reaching heights of 5,000 feet and sweeping down to rugged lava shores. GAWA 000 Stereo DVS
Thursday 8-3	CLIVE JAMES' POSTCARDS Paris James returns to Paris, the city that captured his youthful heart and imagination. He takes a harrowing automobile tour with writer Françoise Sagan, makes a perfunctory pilgrimage to Montmartre and Pigalle and meets a Chanel model. CLPO 105 CC Stereo		MYSTERY! Prime Suspect 3 Edward Parker-Jones is brought in for questioning. Tennison is told by her superiors to stay away from Parker-Jones and to drop the investigation against Kennington. She is determined to find the murderer of Colin Jenkins no matter where the investigation leads. MYST 1432 R CC Stereo DVS		B.B. Wednesday 6-26	AN "AMERICAN EXPERIENCE" SPECIAL: *Murder of the Century/The Quiz Show Scandal/Demon Rum Part One focuses on Stanford White who was considered New York City's leading architect and man-about-town. White was shot to death by Harry Thaw -- an eccentric heir to a Pittsburgh fortune. White's death was the final act in a long struggle between the two famous men over Thaw's wife, Evelyn Nesbit. Part Two looks at how television became a national obsession in the mid-1950s. A new breed of hero appeared on the American scene -- contestants on the big money quiz shows. Then, slowly and painfully, a congressional investigation revealed that the shows were fixed. The final segment examines prohibition. The Eighteenth Amendment, outlawing alcoholic beverages, embodied a deep-seated national belief that the human character could be improved. Repeal 13 years later was the acknowledgment that the "Noble Experiment" had not worked. AESM 000 CC Stereo DVS
