ORDER GRANTING JOINT STIPULATION REGARDING ACCESS TO AND USE OF WEB RESTRICTED MATERIALS

On June 23, 2026, SoundExchange, Inc. ("SoundExchange"), Sirius XM Radio LLC ("Sirius XM"), and Music Choice (collectively, the "Stipulating Parties")[1] filed a motion that has not been opposed[2] (the "Motion"),[3] and an accompanying joint stipulation (the "Stipulation").[4]

[1] Music Choice only joined the Motion with respect to the SR/PSSR IV proceeding.
[2] The Motion is unopposed in each of the above-captioned proceedings as no participant filed any timely response, in accordance with 37 C.F.R. 303.6(f). A similar Joint Motion was filed in the Web IV proceeding on July 13, 2026 (eCRB 19563), which will be considered in due course once the period for briefing on that Motion has been completed.
[3] The Motion was filed in each of the above-captioned proceeding respectively, Web V (eCRB 78732), Web VI (eCRB 78725), and PSS/SDARS IV (eCRB 78727).
[4] Unless otherwise specified, capitalized terms used herein have the same meaning as defined in the Motion.

In the Stipulation, the Stipulating Parties agreed that counsel, expert witnesses, and expert witness support staff retained by the Stipulating Parties to assist in SDARS IV ("SDARS IV Outside Counsel and Experts") should be given access to and permission to use certain Web Restricted Materials in connection with SDARS IV.[5]

For the reasons detailed in the Motion, and in light of the Stipulation, the Judges find that good cause exists to grant the access and use of the Web Restricted Materials, in the above-captioned proceedings, to SDARS IV Outside Counsel and Experts as requested in the Stipulation, and thus modify the Web V, and Web VI protective orders to the extent necessary to allow such access and use. The Motion is otherwise disposed of.

SO ORDERED.

DATED: July 15, 2026

[5] To the extent any outside counsel or expert is bound by the protective orders in Web IV, Web V, or Web VI and already has access to some or all of the Web Restricted Materials by virtue of their participation in those proceedings, nothing in the Stipulation is intended to limit such access.
